Treasurer Yee Announces a Staff Retirement and New Appointments

PHOENIX, AZ – Arizona State Treasurer Kimberly Yee has announced several new staff appointments in her administration, as well as the retirement of Lorraine Jones, effective January 31, 2020, as the Deputy Treasurer of Operations.

"We are so grateful for Lorraine Jones' 32 years of service, commitment and leadership to the Arizona Treasury," said Arizona Treasurer Kimberly Yee. "Lorraine and I worked together 13 years ago in the Treasurer's Office and she's been an outstanding Deputy Treasurer for my administration. While she will be dearly missed as she retires, we are confident in the team we have assembled to continue the stewardship of Arizona taxpayer dollars."

Jackie Harding, the current Assistant Deputy Treasurer, will succeed Lorraine Jones as the Deputy Treasurer of Operations. Joining the team as the Manager of Administration and Banking is Jenny Lim, who received her Bachelor's in Accountancy from Arizona State University and brings experience from the Arizona Department of Administration, General Accounting Office. Also joining Treasury staff is Briana Johnson as Public Information Officer, and Ken Karwowski as Portfolio Analyst.

"I'm thrilled to start the year off with seasoned and new talented individuals who add unique capabilities and skills to the Arizona Treasury as we continue to work hard for Arizona taxpayers," Yee added.

Briana Johnson comes to the Treasury from the Center for Arizona Policy, where she served in various capacities including events, development and media relations. In her role as Public Information Officer, she will provide communications between the Arizona Treasury and members of the public, including Arizona taxpayers and the media.

Ken brings 31 years of experience as a financial services executive with broad knowledge in fixed income portfolio management and credit analysis of portfolios up to $50 billion. He comes to the team from Illinois and PNC Capital Advisors.
