

TREASURER KIMBERLY YEE

State of Arizona

Proclamation

WHEREAS, in 2015, Arizona joined 18 other states in adopting April as Financial Literacy Month to increase awareness of personal financial education; and

WHEREAS, promoting financial literacy can lead to greater economic stability and prosperity for Arizona families and communities; and

WHEREAS, student loan debt is currently over $1.77 trillion and receiving quality financial education is critical for student success after graduation which impacts the economic vitality of our state; and

WHEREAS, in April 2019, the Arizona State Treasurer's Office successfully advanced S.B. 1184 into law to ensure that Arizona high school students receive basic financial education before they graduate; and

WHEREAS, in June 2019, I appointed the first-ever Statewide Task Force on Financial Literacy to advance the importance and awareness of personal money management from students and senior citizens to military veterans and vulnerable populations, where they helped develop the free online Financial Education Portal on the Arizona Treasury website; and

WHEREAS, in June 2020, the Arizona State Treasurer's Office advocated for S.B. 1292 to make promoting and raising awareness of financial literacy to Arizona residents an official responsibility of the Office; and

WHEREAS, in 2020, my office successfully advanced H.B. 2695 which requires financial education be among the workforce training options offered to TANF families to allow for self-sufficiency and success; and

WHEREAS, the AZ529, Arizona's Education Savings Plan, managed by the Arizona State Treasurer's Office, is a tax-advantaged opportunity for families to save for higher education and is ranked among the best in the nation.

WHEREAS, in my official capacity, I have spoken to children in classrooms, professional associations, local leaders and people across Arizona about the importance of financial education and wise money management; and

WHEREAS, it is critical for all Arizonans to possess the knowledge and skills necessary to make smart, informed financial and economic decisions that will position them for success in life,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Kimberly Yee, Treasurer of the State of Arizona, do hereby affirm April 2026 as

and urge leaders throughout the state to advance the cause of financial literacy through appropriate programs and actions. I invite all Arizonans to explore and utilize the Financial Education Resources Portal on the Office of the Arizona State Treasurer's website.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of Arizona.
